NAIDOC Celebration in Yalgoo

Saturday 13 July - Feed at the Golf Club

We had a great day out at the golf club for NAIDOC. On one count there were 55 adults and about 15 kids. A great turn out for Yalgoo!

A big thank you goes to Percy Lawson and his family for organising mostly everything for the day. It was a great bush tucker feed and plenty of fresh damper and Johnny cake shared amongst everyone. Thanks also to Mata and Sue Te Hiini, who, along with Ellen from Indigenous Community Volunteers provided some great musical entertainment in the afternoon.

Thanks for coming along everyone, a great NAIDOC event in Yalgoo.

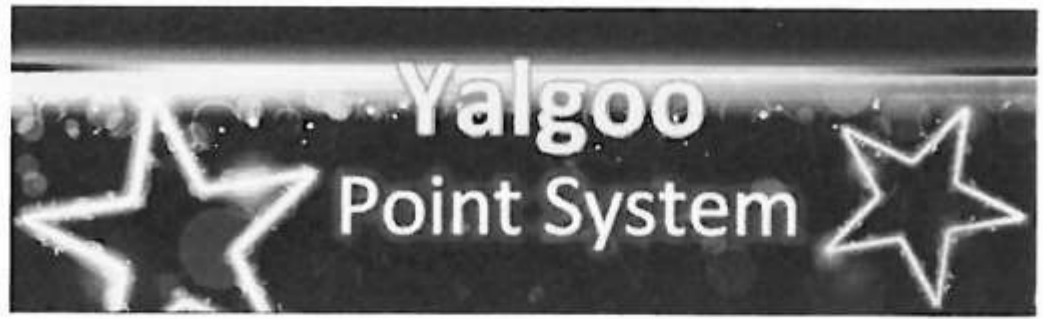

How's that for a feed!

Points system for the kids

The points system has been up and running for a month now. Unfortunately there are plenty of kids who have lost points and they will have to come and earn new points if they want to go away on future day trips and camps.

Points were mainly lost for damage to the rage cage area as it was being built and some breakages and bad behaviour at the hall during events.

The good news through was that four kids actually won points for really good behaviour. So congratulations go to Maddy, Sidney, Michaela and Charmain who have all been rewarded with a trip to Geraldton to see and film and eat at McDonalds.

So if any kids want to earn their points back come and see Mata or me and we'll give you a job to do. For any kids who want to earn points to get rewards, just be seem being nice and polite or you also can come and do some jobs at the hall or around town.

Holiday School Fun

We had Ellen, Emma and Nick from Indigenous Community Volunteers helping out with some of our school holiday program. We had cooks ups, a couple of film nights, a treasure hunt and plenty of fun down at the Rage Cage. Here's some of the pics from the week...

Also Coming up...

Heath Black is coming to Yalgoo to talk about suicide and his personal story about depression. He will be talking at the Railway complex at 3.30pm on Monday 12 August.

For those of you who don't know, Heath is a former AFL footballer who struggled with mental illness throughout his 12-year professional career. Originally from Victoria, he started as a 17-year old in 1997 with the Fremantle Dockers, moving to St Kilda for a stint and finishing his career at the Dockers in late 2008.

Heath has spent the last couple of years getting his life back on track, but rather than sit back he has decided to use his profile and experience to try and help other men who may suffer from Bipolar, ADHD or other related mental conditions such as depression, anxiety, isolation and alcoholism.

UPDATES

Hello everyone,

Acting Sergeant Revis RYDER here from the Yalgoo Police Station.

To the children of Yalgoo, thank you all for your continuing to lookout for your own personal safety by wearing helmets when you are out riding your bicycle.

I would also like to mention that Senior Sergeant Noel Minnock is moving on and leaving our little town of Yalgoo. I and 1/c Constable Comeagain would like to wish Noel all the best for the future.

I know myself and Constable Comeagain have benefited so much from having Noel here in Yalgoo and his advice and assistance will assist us greatly in performing our duties.

Football news!

With 4 rounds remaining in the season, the club is in good shape on the playing field, with all three grades in the top four.

The league side is on top, the reserves is sitting in third spot and the colts are in fourth, so we need all the support we can get from our supporters as we approach the finals this year.

That's all we have to report on from the staff at Yalgoo Police Station.

Cheers.

Member for North West Central

29th July 2013Seniors Cost of Living Rebate assists seniors with household bills

More than 288,000 seniors in Western Australia will be finding extra cash in their bank accounts this week noted Vincent Catania, Member for North West Central.

WA Seniors Card holders receive the cost of living rebate to meet increased living expenses. These payments are indexed annually to reflect increases in the Consumer Price Index. The payments for 2013 are $159.90 per individual and $239.90 per couple where both hold a WA Seniors Card. More than $39million was being paid directly into the bank accounts of WA Seniors Card holder under the rebate scheme.

Applications must be lodged by 31st May to be eligible for that year's rebate payment. Once registered, you will receive future year's payments automatically. You need to advise the Seniors Card Centre if you change your address or bank account details.

Fact File

- In July 2013, there were 347,057 WA Seniors Card holders.
- Approximately 15,000 new WA Seniors Card holder applications are processed each year.
- The rebate has paid $152million to WA Seniors since it was introduced in 2008.

Stellar attractions at the Murchison Astrofest 2013

One of the Murchison's iconic events is back! Join star gazers from across the Mid West at the Murchison Astrofest 2013, which kicks off at 11am on Saturday 17 August 2013 at the Murchison Settlement. Stellar attractions at this year's Murchison Astrofest include CSIRO's Dr Lisa Harvey-Smith and Professor Ken Freeman – winner of the 2012 Prime Minister's Prize for Science.

Dr. Lisa Harvey-Smith, Australian Square Kilometre Array Pathfinder (ASKAP) Project Scientist, will speak about some of the complex mysteries of the universe that will be tackled by astronomers using information from this cutting-edge CSIRO ASKAP radio telescope.

Lisa Harvey-Smith is a research astronomer at CSIRO's Astronomy and Space Science division and is based in Sydney. Lisa has research experience spanning over a decade in observatories in the U.K., The Netherlands, Germany and Australia. Her research interests range from measuring weak magnetic fields in our Galaxy to capturing images of the birth and death of stars.

According to Mr Sandy McTaggart - Chair, Murchison Astrofest Committee "Lisa is a fantastic ambassador for astronomy as she is able to convey her enthusiasm for science to the general public".

Also, speaking at the Murchison Astrofest is prominent International astronomer Professor Ken Freeman. Prof Freeman was awarded the 2012 Prime Minister's Prize for Science.

As well as the above, in early 2013 the prestigious Henry Norris Russell Lectureship of the American Astronomical Society was awarded to Professor Freeman in recognition of a lifetime of influential contributions to astronomy.

Ken is the Duffield Professor of Astronomy at the Australian National University's Mt Stromlo Observatory, a man regarded internationally as Australia's most renowned astronomer.

Among many other achievements, Ken is perhaps best known for putting "dark matter" on the galactic map. In 1970, he published a paper showing that what we see of galaxies - as stars, gas and dust - is only a small fraction of their mass. The rest is invisible, dark matter. It's a finding which changed the course of astronomy. But that was only the beginning of his career.

More recently, in 2002, he became a founder of what today is one of the hottest fields of investigation in astronomy, galactic archaeology - determining the age and movement of stars in our own galaxy through analysing their chemical composition. The aim is to work out how galaxies were constructed. And the field has become a major driver in the commissioning of new ground and space-based telescopes.

“It is not every day that the general public get to meet and hear internationally recognised Australian scientists tell us about their work. What an opportunity!” says Mr McTaggart and is urging people to register to attend the event.

The Murchison Shire is the home of the Murchison Radio-astronomy Observatory (MRO) where the cutting edge radio astronomy instruments can be found including ASKAP, the Murchison Widefield Array (MWA), EDGES and in the future the Square Kilometre Array (SKA).

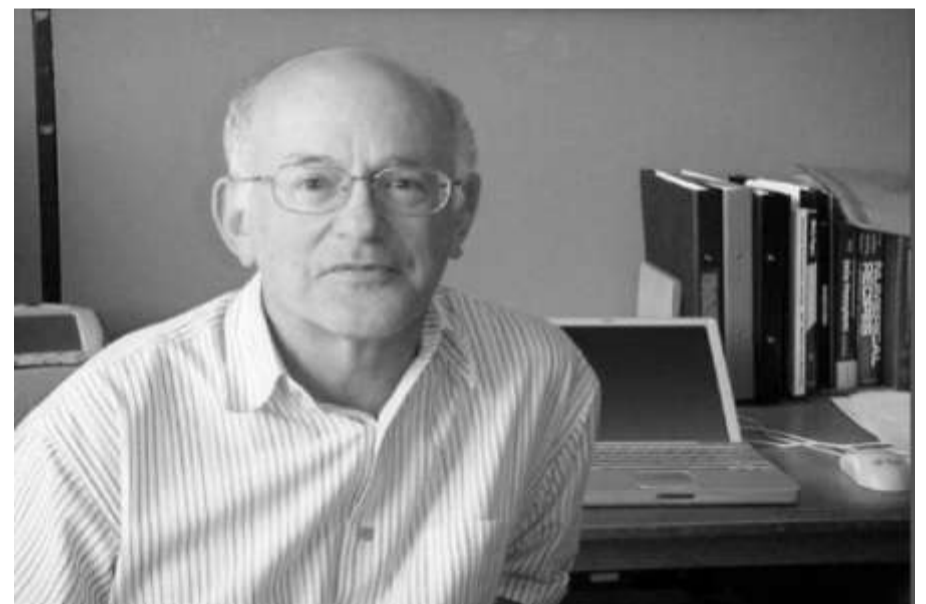

Tickets to the Murchison Astrofest are:

- $80 /family (2xadults; 2xprimary school aged children);
- $20/child (age 13 -16);
- $35/adult

Registration Fees entitles participants to 3xmeals (lunch, dinner and breakfast) plus access to all public lectures and activities including star viewing.

CORNBREAD

Colvin Run Mill Corn Bread

1 cup cornmeal
 1 cup flour
 ½ teaspoon salt
 4 teaspoons baking powder
 3 tablespoons sugar
 1 egg
 1 cup milk
 ¼ cup shortening (soft) or vegetable oil

Mix together the dry ingredients. Beat together the egg, milk and shortening/oil. Add the liquids to the dry ingredients. Mix quickly by hand. Pour into greased 8x8 or 9x9 baking pan. Bake at 425 degrees for 20-25 minutes.

Warm Potato & Green Bean Salad

12-14 small new potatoes	2 T. red wine vinegar
1 c. green beans halved	1/2 t. salt
1/2 sm. red onion, slivered	1/8 t. black pepper
1/2 red pepper, chopped	2 t. fresh parsley, chopped
1 garlic clove, grated	1/8 t. each basil, oregano & thyme
3 T. olive oil

Cook unpeeled potatoes covered in water until tender, about 15 minutes, adding green beans to pan for last 5 minutes to barely cook. Drain and place in salad bowl. Add onion and pepper to bowl. Mix remaining dressing ingredients and pour over potato mix tossing gently to coat. Let sit at room temperature about 1 hour before serving. Serves 4.

Narn

In the world of Narn survival of the fittest was the first rule of nature. Mark had it in plenty, he was afraid of nothing, he'd bite, scratch and lick heads with the best of them. Valentine was a different species, though born on Narn, he was soft almost a scholar and yet if you looked under his hooded eyelids you came to realize who was the more dangerous of the two.

The day of the summer games was approaching, all Narnarians were getting out their finery. The biggest and best games yet were due to be put on before the strangers. The strangers were from Astra, light years across the galaxy. They came in a super-tuned sports ship 'the Good Samariton'.

Mark had been asked to escort these Astrans around the city and to the games. He took it upon himself to make sure they had the best, though complained to Valentine about his Narn credits worth! He wanted a raise but as he had not yet reached majors stripes he would have to wait.

The day of the games dawned, a misty rain was falling. Bt the time of the official ceremonies the lazy sun had risen and the citizens cheered. Now the day would be perfect.

Into the grounds walked the champions. Hands waving to the fans, all of whom were cheering Mark and Valentine. Mark told Valentine that he'd arranged for the Astrans to have seats with the Mayor. The Astrans, beginning to be known now, were called Jil and Jak. They were really looking forward to learning all they could of Narn's Culture, they had to make a full report when they got home.

Once all the ceremonies were over the games began. The races were tedious as usual, no one ever beat Trin, he could run, jump and throw twice as far and hard as anyone. Next came the bare arm contests, again no real excitement as before. Everyone was waiting for the real contests, to the death.

These contests started with a mild disappointment as Valentine was matched with a puny little guy (Dorta) and had him whimpering in no time. Now things began to heat up as mark and Valentine did a double (dare all or die), match. This meant that they were both in the ring surrounded by four opponents each armed with a large axe and a micro shield, whilst they were unarmed.

Continue

Poems and Stories by M. Pauline Davies

The fight began, the crowd was silent, the cunning of Valentine becoming apparent as he knocked out two opponents in a feral rush of stealth. Mark meanwhile had bitten one guy to the ground and was pinning him for the final gash, when the other jumped on his back. Valentine now freed flew over to his friend's aid. The death of both was now inevitable, the crowd came to in an explosion of applause.

The two champions stood together, to make their bows, then as always with a gesture to the crowd they made their last request "we two to the death". The roars of the crowd faded everyone looked towards the mayor, this time no, disappointing all. The Mayor Pug, did not want to lose his champions and so he lead them to the feast.

"Well that last fight was interesting" the Astrans said. Jil and Jack had by now learnt a lot about the mentality of these alien Narnians and were not impressed. They hid it well but as they had a mission to find intelligent life they realized that Narn was just primitive.

Mark and Valentine, the only two to make an impression, were still just wild dogs underneath. Jil and Jak the only humans on Narn retreated to their space ship, leaving behind a stack of golden bones and a promise to visit again.

ITS

Its acting upon what you feel inside,
Its being yourself, to realize,
You can't be a number, you can't be a pawn,
Its not their game,
its yours,

Its being yourself, not being put down,
Its hoping and dreaming and heavily falling,
Its picking yourself up, not complaining,
Its not crying the tears when hurting,
Its always being lively, when crying inside,
Its your life,
With all its pitfalls to
To choose the way.

Six Golden Rules for Prospecting

The most common prospecting permit used by tourists visiting Western Australia is called a Miner's Right. This permit allows holders to prospect on Crown land with hand held tools (such as a metal detector) as well as take and keep samples or specimens up to 20 kilograms.

A Miner's Right permit can be obtained from any Mining Registrar's office in the State for a one off payment of $25.00 per person.

Miner's Right permit holders need to be aware that prospecting on certain classes of Crown land may require prior written permission from the lease holder e.g. pastoral or mining lease holder.

To learn more about the different permits and permissions required for prospecting in Western Australia, please refer to the following Six Golden Rules for Prospecting.

For more information about prospecting, please visit your nearest Mining Registrar's office to obtain a copy of the 'Prospecting in Western Australia' booklet or download it from www.dmp.wa.gov.au/prospectingwa

- 1 Obtain a Miner's Right permit when prospecting on vacant Crown land ($25 from any Mining Registrar's Office).
- 2 Fill any holes that have been dug and repair ground that has been disturbed.
- 3 Comply with all legal requirements when prospecting on a pastoral lease, including gaining prior permission from the pastoralist for access to certain areas.
- 4 Obtain a 40E permit when prospecting within an exploration tenement – if you do not have written permission from the tenement holder.
- 5 Gain written permission from the tenement holder when prospecting on a:
  - mining lease
  - exploration licence – if you do not have a 40E permit
  - prospecting licence.
- 6 Maintain a respectful approach to Crown land which recognises the variety of designated uses including but not limited to: parks and forests; pastoral and grazing activity; mining; and areas set aside for the use and benefit of Aboriginal people.

DID YOU KNOW .... Maximum penalty for an individual illegally prospecting is $150,000

Update from Melissa Price

Liberal for Durack

A bit about Melissa Price

Melissa was born and bred in regional WA.

Melissa grew up in Kalgoorlie and was schooled at a local primary and high school, together with her two brothers and sister.

Melissa has worked as company secretary for Crosslands Resources, which owns the Jack Hills iron ore mine in the Mid-West, and has also worked for six years at CBH as general counsel and business development manager.

With her experiences in the mining and agriculture industries, and her understanding of the need for a viable tourism industry, Melissa knows that we need to get Australia back on track. The only way to make this happen is with a Tony Abbott-led Liberal Government.

As proud parents, Melissa and her partner Brad understand the current pressures on households.

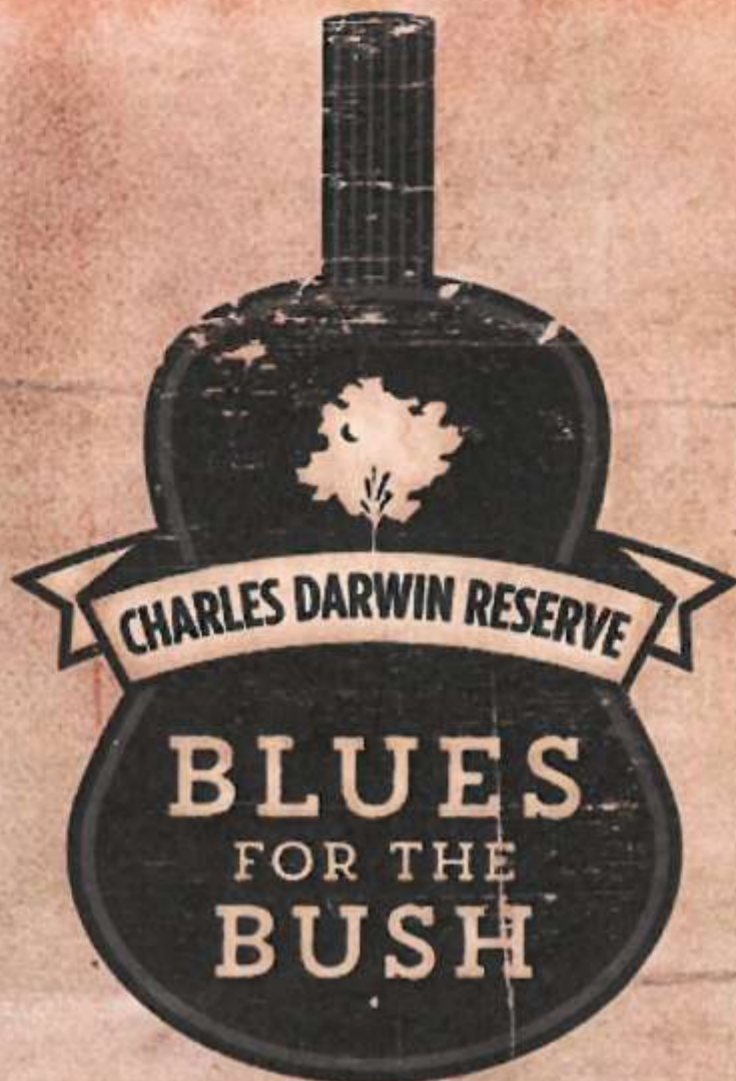

Melissa's family is very supportive of her goal to represent the people of regional WA because she has a passion for making your local area a better place to live.

Shire of Yalgoo Draft Strategic Community Plan

Your chance for final comments!

The Shire of Yalgoo invites you to review the draft Strategic Community Plan that has been prepared from consultation carried out with you, our community.

The Plan is a really important document that will set the Shire's activities for the next ten years. Council allocates its resources based on what is in the plan. This is known as an Integrated Planning Framework.

The Plan looks at all Shire activities that impact on social development, environmental issues, economic matters and civic leadership. There are things in the Plan that we say we are going to do and we want to make sure that you, the community, agree with what is in there.

The plan is inside this edition of the Bulldust with a feedback sheet that you can use to tell us what actions you think are most important, let us know if anything is missing, or make any other comment.

Comments need to be received by 30 August. After that we will make the final changes before Council formally adopts the Plan and sends it to the state government.

How do I have my say?

Write your comments and priorities on the feedback sheet and return to the Shire. You can also talk to Pip Parsonson on 9962 8174 or via email to community@yalgoo.wa.gov.au
